

WHAT'S NEW

GREEN DESIGN INDOOR PLANT HIRE

Green Walls and Latest Planters

Green Design recently completed the interior plantscaping project for Accenture and Google at Workplace 6 in Pymont. Both these clients had green walls installed in the reception by the Greenwall Company. Green Walls are becoming more and more popular indoors.

They: Enhance a firm's image
Dampen noise
Clean the office air, and
Do many more things.

What will help this trend is the recent acceptance by the Green Building Council that green walls count towards green star points.

Ring Rudy at Green Design for more information on this.

Green Design work closely with the Greenwall Company and together are in the process of developing a modular green wall that can be wheeled in and out of offices. More on this in our next news letter

Prestige Dracaena godseffiana "Sarcocolla"

The last two years have seen the introduction of a number of modern new planters by Green Design, such as the tall Prestige Square seen above and the tall Parel cylinders below. These planters are made from part recycled materials and are themselves fully recyclable. This range comes on castors if needed.

With the taller planters it often looks better to have shorter plants, such as the Sansevieria above.

More modern planters can be seen on our web site:

GREEN STAR and SUSTAINABILITY

Green Design has a full range of sustainable planters.

We have an Accredited Green Star Professional on our staff

We have experience with Green Star compliance documentation.

We specialize in submitting proposals within your design and Green Star point requirements.